The increase in the valuation of the investment property portfolio is mainly due to an increase in the valuation of the office properties in Hong Kong following rental increases and a reduction of 12.5 basis points in the capitalisation rate applicable to office properties in Hong Kong, partially offset by the transfer of Cityplaza Three and Cityplaza Four properties to assets held for sale.

Prospects

Hong Kong

- High occupancy and limited supply are expected to underpin office rents at Pacific Place while high occupancy and strong demand are expected to result in office rents at our Taikoo Place developments being resilient.
- Retail sales are expected to remain stable in 2019.
- Rental demand for our residential investment properties is expected to be stable in 2019.

Mainland China

- Office rents in central business districts are expected to increase slightly in Guangzhou, to be resilient in Jing’an, Shanghai and to come under pressure in Beijing in 2019 reflecting the supply-demand dynamics in the respective markets.
- Retail sales are expected to grow steadily Beijing, Guangzhou and Shanghai and moderately in Chengdu in 2019.
- Retail rents are expected to grow moderately in Shanghai and Chengdu despite an increase in the availability of competing space. Demand for luxury, fashion and lifestyle brands and for F&B is expected to be solid in Beijing. Demand for retail space from international retailers and F&B operators is strong in Guangzhou.

Miami, U.S.A.

- Retail sales are increasing steadily. Demand for retail space in the metropolitan area is correspondingly steady.
- The supply of new Grade-A office space in the central business district and the Brickell area is low and demand is firm.
- Demand for condominiums is expected to continue to be affected by weak South American economies and the relative strength of the US dollar.

Across Regions - Hotels

- Stable trading conditions are expected for our existing hotels in 2019.
- New hotels in Shanghai are expected to continue to build up occupancy.
